

Announcement: Moody's announces completion of a periodic review of ratings of Ooredoo Q.P.S.C.

21 Mar 2019

Madrid, March 21, 2019 -- Moody's Investors Service ("Moody's") has completed a periodic review of the ratings of Ooredoo Q.P.S.C. and other ratings that are associated with the same analytical unit. The review was conducted through a portfolio review in which Moody's reassessed the appropriateness of the ratings in the context of the relevant principal methodology(ies), recent developments, and a comparison of the financial and operating profile to similarly rated peers. The review did not involve a rating committee. Since 1 January 2019, Moody's practice has been to issue a press release following each periodic review to announce its completion.

This publication does not announce a credit rating action and is not an indication of whether or not a credit rating action is likely in the near future. Credit ratings and outlook/review status cannot be changed in a portfolio review and hence are not impacted by this announcement. For any credit ratings referenced in this publication, please see the ratings tab on the issuer/entity page on www.moody's.com for the most updated credit rating action information and rating history.

Key rating considerations are summarized below.

Ooredoo's A2 rating factors in its standalone credit worthiness, as expressed by the baseline credit assessment (BCA), of baa2, combined with high dependence on and a high level of support from the Government of Qatar (Aa3 stable), under our Government Related Issuer rating methodology. The Government of Qatar owns 68.6% of the company through direct and indirect holdings.

Ooredoo's baa2 BCA reflects its strong liquidity profile with a cash balance covering all group debt maturities up to the end of 2020. The BCA further considers (1) the resilience of the Qatari economy despite economic and financial risks arising from the ongoing dispute between Qatar and a group of neighbouring countries; (2) the defensive nature of the telecommunications sector in Qatar, given the non-discretionary characteristics of expenditure on telecommunication services; (3) Ooredoo's exposure to foreign currency volatility is mitigated as operating subsidiary debt is substantially in local currency; (4) significant leadership in the lucrative Qatari market and number one or two positions in most other markets; and (5) stable performance across most of its operations.

This document summarizes Moody's view as of the publication date and will not be updated until the next periodic review announcement, which will incorporate material changes in credit circumstances (if any) during the intervening period.

The methodologies used for this review were Telecommunications Service Providers published in January 2017 and Government-Related Issuers published in June 2018. Please see the Rating Methodologies page on www.moody's.com for a copy of these methodologies.

This publication does not announce a credit rating action. For any credit ratings referenced in this publication, please see the ratings tab on the issuer/entity page on www.moody's.com for the most updated credit rating action information and rating history.
